

Workplace Health and Safety Policy

Dump It is able to demonstrate an active, consultative commitment to all areas of health and safety management in the workplace. Providing a safe and healthy working environment and conditions for the prevention of work-related injuries and ill health.

Dump It has developed and implemented a structured health and safety management system to meet its obligations and legislative requirements. This will also assist to achieve a consistently high standard of safety performance. Regular review of WHSE at senior level reinforces its importance to DI' commercial objectives and legal obligations.

Dump Its Health and Safety Policy will remain compliant with legislative requirements and current industrial standards and codes of practice. This commitment includes measurable objectives and targets aimed at eliminating work related incidents and injuries, controlling the WHS risks using the hierarchy of controls.

Dump It has delegated general and specific health and safety responsibilities applicable to the various management levels of the organisation. Further individual responsibilities are contained in particular procedures and position descriptions. Every level participates in the establishment and maintenance of the WHS controls as well as assisting in WHSE planning.

Dump It's WHS Policy is to inform workers and other interested parties that WHS is an integral part of its operations. And that all staff are to be actively involved in the review and continual improvement of WHS performance as this reinforces the company's objectives.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Matthew Calleija".

Matthew Calleija
Director